CLEAR TECHNOLOGIES NAMES PUBLIC SECTOR EXECUTIVE

"Julie's impressive knowledge of IBM brands, solving customer problems, and her relationships in the public sector, makes her one of our most valuable assets."

Phil Godwin, Vice President of Sales and Marketing, Clear Technologies

FRIDAY, APRIL 8, 2011: COPPELL, TX USA: Clear Technologies announces the appointment of Julie Lynn Skora as Public Sector Account Manager. Skora joined the Sales team April 4, 2011.

In her new position, Skora will be responsible for public sector accounts in which she will ensure customer satisfaction and increase Clear's presence in the public sector market by developing new accounts. "Adding Julie to our team shows our commitment to serving our current and future public sector clients. Her proven ability in developing and maintaining strong relationships within the public sector as well as her impressive knowledge of IBM brands makes her one of our most valuable assets." said Phil Godwin, Vice President of Sales and Marketing.

Skora brings over 12 years of cost savings, efficiency, server/storage consolidation, infrastructure services, and virtualization experience to her new position including former positions as: Channels Account Manager at IBM, Account Executive at Agilysys, and Client Representative at IBM. She is certified in IBM P Series and earned a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Texas at Dallas.
