

Interested in the Future Of Storage Technology?

Join us June 15th for dinner at Nobu Dallas with the most interesting man in Storage

Moshe Yanai

Over the past 35 years, Moshe's storage architectures changed how companies use and store data. His Symmetrix architecture created the concept of enterprise storage, he co-founded dedupe pioneer Diligent, then again redefined enterprise with the Innovative XIV array. Come hear where Moshe thinks enterprise storage is going, and how his newest breakthroughs have once again redefined data storage.

The 15th of June, 2016

Enjoy a meal prepared by Nobu's Executive Chef Carl Murray while discussing storage technology with Moshe Yanai
